What's going to happen next?

Based on what you have learned today, what do you think is next for abortion rights?

This is not a question of how do you feel about abortion rights but one about predicting the future. As we have discussed today, while there is momentum in past Supreme Court cases to uphold abortion rights, it is built on a weak foundation and the court has a more conservative lean to it.

Record your prediction and at least one reason why you feel abortion rights will head in the direction you predict. Your answer should be at least five lines of writing.

Please submit your work to eBackpack when you are done.
