

Peoples and World Cultures Final

Now that we traveled around the world, it is time to give you your own chance to get out and explore. Your first step is to choose a country and explore its culture. You must choose a country from either Africa or the Middle East.

You will need to accumulate at least 70 points worth of data on your country. Please consult the following pages to see what type of information will get you the points you need. Make sure that you follow the instructions for each piece of information that you include in your presentation.

The product that you create must have the ability to be shared electronically. Consider the following options but make sure you gather your data first and decide what tool you will use second.

- Spark Video
- Spark Page
- Keynote
- Thinglink
- Or choose one of your own. You could make an iMovie or design a website. The choice is up to you.

Your presentation is due on our last day of class on Tuesday, June 8th. During class on your Final Exam day, you will be completing an activity based on your classmates' work.

Your presentation will be worth 70 points. The in-class activity will be worth another 24 points.
